B. Agreement Terms

1. Originality and Exclusive Consideration

The Author(s) declare that the manuscript is an original work; has not been published in substantially the same form; and is not under consideration by another journal. Any related preprint, conference paper, thesis chapter, dataset, report, or previous version has been disclosed to the Editor. The manuscript will not be submitted elsewhere while it remains under active consideration by the Journal.

2. Authorship, Approval, and Authority

Every person listed as an author satisfies the Journal's authorship criteria, has made a meaningful contribution, has reviewed and approved the submitted and final versions, and accepts responsibility for the integrity of the work. The Corresponding Author confirms that all co-authors have authorised submission and publication under this Agreement and that the order and identity of the authors are correct.

3. Research Integrity and Ethical Compliance

The Author(s) confirm that the work complies with applicable research, publication, safety, environmental, and ethical requirements. Required ethics approvals, informed consent, permits, registrations, funding information, author-contribution statements, competing-interest declarations, and data-availability statements have been disclosed accurately. The manuscript contains no fabrication, falsification, plagiarism, inappropriate image manipulation, duplicate publication, citation manipulation, or other research or publication misconduct.

4. Accuracy and Author Responsibility

ISSN: 1412-5064 (print), 2356-1661 (online)

The Author(s) remain responsible for the accuracy of the content, data, calculations, references, interpretations, and conclusions. Publication by the Journal does not constitute endorsement by the Journal, Publisher, editors, or Universitas Syiah Kuala of any claim, product, procedure, or opinion expressed in the article.

5. Copyright Retention

Copyright in the article remains with the Author(s), or with another lawful copyright owner identified to the Journal. Nothing in this Agreement transfers ownership of copyright to the Journal or Publisher.

6. Non-Exclusive Licence to the Journal

The Author(s) grant the Journal and Publisher a worldwide, royalty-free, non-exclusive licence and the right of first publication to edit for style and format, publish, reproduce, distribute, communicate, display, host, archive, preserve, index, deposit, and make the article and its metadata publicly available in print, electronic, and future media. This licence includes the technical rights necessary to assign or register a DOI; deposit metadata, references, abstracts, and full text with scholarly services; create accessible or preservation formats; and maintain the version of record. Material changes to the scholarly meaning of the article require author approval, except for transparent corrections, notices, or post-publication actions made under the Journal's policies.

7. Open-Access Licence

Upon publication, the article will be made immediately and freely available under the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International Licence (CC BY-SA 4.0). This licence permits users to share and adapt the work for any purpose, including commercial purposes, provided that appropriate attribution is given, a link to the licence is supplied, changes are indicated, and adapted material is distributed under the same or a compatible ShareAlike licence. Users may not impose additional legal or technological restrictions inconsistent with the licence.

8. Third-Party Material and Permissions

The Author(s) confirm that they own, or have obtained sufficient written permission to use and license, all figures, tables, photographs, maps, questionnaires, datasets, text extracts, software, and other third-party material included in the manuscript. Any material excluded from the article's CC BY-SA 4.0 licence must be clearly identified by an appropriate credit line, copyright notice, and reuse condition. Copies of permissions must be supplied to the Journal upon request.

9. Author Reuse and Self-Archiving

Because the Author(s) retain copyright, they may share, deposit, reproduce, translate, adapt, include, or reuse the submitted version, accepted manuscript, and version of record, subject to any rights held by third parties. Reuse of the published version should acknowledge first publication in Jurnal Rekayasa Kimia & Lingkungan, retain the DOI and licence notice, and avoid implying endorsement by the Journal or Publisher.

10. Editorial Decisions and Post-Publication Record

The Journal retains independent authority over peer review, acceptance, rejection, scheduling, copyediting, production, and publication. The Journal may publish corrections, retractions, expressions of concern, removal notices, or other updates where required to protect the integrity of the scholarly record. The Journal will handle such actions transparently under its published policies.

11. Article Processing Charge and Editorial Independence

For an accepted article, the Article Processing Charge is IDR 1,500,000, unless an authorised waiver or exemption applies. The charge is requested only after editorial acceptance and does not influence peer review or editorial decisions. The Author(s) are responsible for ensuring payment in accordance with the Journal's current APC and payment instructions.

12. Personal Data

The Author(s) acknowledge that personal data submitted through the Journal’s OJS platform will be processed for manuscript administration, peer review, publication, indexing, preservation, communication, and compliance purposes in accordance with the Journal’s Privacy Statement and applicable Indonesian personal-data-protection law.

13. Governing Framework and Resolution of Disputes

This Agreement is interpreted in accordance with applicable laws of the Republic of Indonesia. The parties will first attempt to resolve any disagreement in good faith through communication with the Journal and Publisher. Nothing in this clause limits any non-waivable right or remedy available under applicable law.

14. Entire Agreement and Electronic Acceptance
This document, together with the Journal's published policies incorporated by reference, constitutes the agreement concerning publication of the manuscript. Electronic signatures, scanned signatures, and verified acceptance through the Journal's submission system may be treated as evidence of agreement. If a term conflicts with the unmodified CC BY-SA 4.0 licence, the Creative Commons licence governs public reuse of the published article.
